

REAL CLUB DE GOLF EL PRAT
BARCELONA

REDS, WHITES AND GREENS... BY GLASS AND GRASS

Golfers have often enjoyed a glass of wine after a round – and, now, one of Spain's oldest golf clubs is able to offer visitors a chance to experience one of the country's oldest wine regions with a special package offering reds, whites ... and greens.

Real Club de Golf El Prat, located just outside the cosmopolitan city of Barcelona, has partnered with boutique travel agency Winenium, to offer an exclusive and intimate experience based around the golf club and the culture of the local vineyards and wines.

The DO Alella wine region dates back to 100BCE and has been producing wine since Roman times. As well as being one of the oldest wine regions in Spain, it is also one of the smallest, and, at the award-winning, family-run Alta Alella winery – located within a Natural Park 45 minutes from the city – visitors have the opportunity to taste six organic wines which feature at Michelin-starred restaurants.

The packages, which start at €390 per person, include private round-trip transfers, nine holes of golf at El Prat with buggy, a private guided visit to the winery with an English-speaking guide, wine tasting and a wine-pairing session with a specially designed gourmet tapas lunch.
