

Turisme de Barcelona keeps a permanent information service via Call Center

- » Turisme de Barcelona and the City Hotels Association have activated an emergency plan to accommodate the people affected by yesterday's attacks in the hotels of the city
- » The Tourist Board is offering language support to public services and facilities
- » Turisme de Barcelona condemns violence and the terrorist attacks that have struck Barcelona

The consortium Turisme de Barcelona has activated a 24 hours permanent information service via its Call Center (+34 932 853 832/ +34 932 853 834) to assist those in Barcelona or arriving in the city and who need guidance with accommodation issues or any other problems related to tourist services or transport that may appear.

Turisme de Barcelona has also activated an emergency plan in cooperation with the City Hotels Association in order to relocate and offer accommodation to all those who may have been affected by yesterday's attack on the Ramblas.

The Consortium has also offered language support and its network of information officers are at disposal of emergency services and any person that may need them.

All the Tourist Information Offices remain open today, except for the offices at Liceu and Amadeu Bagués street on the Rambla, that will be available for visitors when appropriate authority allows.

The Information Offices can be used to obtain useful information on transportation and other questions that may arise for locals, tourists and relatives.

The Barcelona City Council reported today that the stations and public transportation lines that were affected yesterday after the attacks have been restored and are functioning since early this morning. Public services and facilities that were closed yesterday are now available, with the exception of those on la Rambla and its surrounding, which will remain closed to circulation until this evening at the very least.

Turisme de Barcelona has boldly condemned yesterday's violence and terrorist attack, and has joined the moment of silence in a public act today at noon. The entity expresses its condolence to the families of the victims of yesterday's terrorist attacks.

The Tourist Board of Barcelona wants to join all the solidarity and support messages coming from different cities from all over the world. Barcelona is a city committed to democratic values and is proud of the diversity and peaceful coexistence of its people.